Compiled by the Policy, International Business, and Elections Committee

THIS MONTH'S POLICY:

141 | Club Officers

Club elections should be conducted in January to March so that the new officers may attend District Convention and attend the training workshops. Club officer candidates must be members in good standing and meet all requirements specified in club bylaws. Club officers are elected by dues paid members of that club at a club conclave following election procedures described in the International, District and club bylaws. New officers should assume office on May 1 and serve until April 30.

| INTERESTED IN RUNNING? |

Key Clubs elects officers between the months of January and March, depending on the dates for District Convention. (DCON is March 13-15 this year, which is relatively early, therefore elections should be taking place in January.) Elections take place prior to District Convention so they may receive proper training from the District. Before running for an officer position, candidates must have paid their dues and the club they serve must have submitted those dues on time. Only dues paid members may participate in the voting process outlined in the District and club bylaws. Officers assume their position on the last day of District Convention of the year in which they were elected and retire on the last day of District Convention the following year.
